Financial Management Policy

1. Purpose and Scope

This policy establishes guidelines for financial management at Finding Technology. It applies to all employees involved in financial transactions, budget planning, expense reporting, and financial record-keeping. Our goal is to ensure accuracy, transparency, and compliance with all applicable laws and regulations.

2. Budget Planning

Annual budgets are prepared by department heads and reviewed by the finance team. Budgets must align with company strategic objectives and be approved by the CEO. Quarterly budget reviews ensure alignment with actual performance. Variances exceeding 10% require written explanation and corrective action plan.

3. Expense Reimbursement

Employees must submit expense reports within 30 days of incurring expenses. Receipts are required for all expenses over $50. Approved expenses include travel, client entertainment, training, and necessary business supplies. Reimbursement is processed within 15 business days of approval.

4. Procurement and Purchasing

Purchases over $500 require supervisor approval. Purchases over $5,000 require finance team review and CEO approval. Competitive quotes are required for purchases exceeding $10,000. All procurement must follow the company's ethical guidelines and conflict of interest policies.

5. Financial Records and Reporting

Accurate financial records must be maintained for all transactions. Monthly financial statements are prepared within 15 days of month-end. Annual audits are conducted by an independent accounting firm. All financial documents are retained for minimum 7 years.

6. Internal Controls

Segregation of duties is maintained for all financial processes. Authorization limits are established and enforced. Regular internal audits verify compliance with policies. Any suspected fraud or financial irregularity must be reported immediately through the grievance procedure.

7. Compliance and Ethics

All financial activities must comply with applicable laws, regulations, and accounting standards. Employees must complete annual ethics and compliance training. Conflicts of interest must be disclosed. Violations may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Procurement and Purchasing Policy

1. Purpose and Scope

This policy governs all procurement activities at Finding Technology. It ensures fair, transparent, and cost-effective purchasing while maintaining quality standards. All employees involved in procurement must comply with this policy.

2. Procurement Principles

All procurement must follow principles of fairness, transparency, competition, and value for money. Conflicts of interest must be disclosed and avoided. Gifts or incentives from suppliers are prohibited. Supplier selection is based on quality, price, delivery, and service.

3. Approval Authority

Purchases under $500: Department approval. Purchases $500-$5,000: Department head and finance approval. Purchases $5,000-$10,000: CFO approval required. Purchases over $10,000: CEO approval and competitive bidding required. Emergency purchases require retrospective approval within 5 business days.

4. Supplier Management

Suppliers must be pre-qualified before first purchase. Supplier performance is reviewed annually. Preferred supplier agreements are established for frequently purchased items. Multiple suppliers are maintained for critical materials to ensure supply continuity.

5. Purchase Order Process

All purchases require a purchase order (PO) before commitment. POs must include item description, quantity, price, delivery date, and terms. Changes to POs require written approval. Goods received must be inspected and matched to PO before payment.

6. Competitive Bidding

Bids required for purchases over $10,000. Minimum 3 written quotes must be obtained and documented. Evaluation criteria must be established before bid solicitation. Award decision must be justified and documented. Debriefing provided to unsuccessful bidders upon request.

7. Ethics and Compliance

Employees must avoid conflicts of interest in all procurement activities. Accepting gifts, entertainment, or favors from suppliers is prohibited. Confidential information must not be shared with bidders. Violations result in disciplinary action and potential legal consequences.
